PURPLE BADLY OFF FORM AND LOSES TO SHEFFIELD 13 TO 0 IN A WARM CONTEST

Visiting Backs Rip Albany Line and Skirt Flanks for Long Gains.

ARTHUR RECOVERS A FUMBLE, CROSSES LINE

Diminutive Quarter Displays Pretty Piece of Broken-Field Running.

With Proctor ripping the Albany line and Arthur skirting the ends behind excellent interference, for long gains, Sheffield trampled the Purple and Gold yesterday on the local field 13 to 0.

The Albany team was badly off-form. No other skill can be offered. For the first half the Albany team played as in a daze and it was not until the fourth quarter that the Purple eleven uncorked the drive it is capable of. Sheffield, in the meantime, had adopted a defensive game and punted out of danger whenever Albany threatened seriously.

The game was the first Albany has contested in the race for the municipal high school championship and the result was a severe disappointment for the Purple supporters.

The eleven are fairly evenly matched. Sheffield possesses two unusually large huskies, notably Proctor, but the remainder of the team is no heavier than Albany's. The Purple's fighting spirit was conspicuous only for its absence.

Wins Toss

Albany won the toss and kicked to Sheffield and after an exchange of line bumps and punts, McAfee intercepted a forward pass and ran the ball back to Sheffield's 35 yard line. Sheffield immediately "returned the favor" by intercepting a forward pass on her own hook, returning the ball to Albany's 18 yard line, from where it was easily bucked over. Sheffield kicked goal. Score: Sheffield 7, Albany 0.

Soon after the second quarter began, Arthur, diminutive quarterback of the visitors, on a criss-cross in the middle of the field, fumbled, recovered and raced for a touchdown around left end, dodging his way through the Albany team. He displayed a pretty piece of broken-field running, completing dodging the Albany safety, only member of the team directly in his path. Attempt at goal failed. Score: Sheffield 13, Albany 0.

Second Half

The second half was almost feature-less, although on more than one occasion, the Albany backfield, which was beginning to show its tremendous driving power, brought the hearts of the spectators to their throats by ripping through the Sheffield line, or skirting their flanks for substantial gains.

McAfee made one of the longest gains of the half, when he intercepted a pass and slipped down the field to Sheffield's 25 yard before being brought to a halt.

McAfee at center, played his usu-

LEADER OF IRRECONCILIABLES MAY GET PLACE IN THE CABINET

SENATOR LODGE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—President-elect Harding already has begun consideration of the make up of his cabinet. Three names are mentioned most prominent for secretary of state. They are: Herbert Hoover, Elihu Root and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. Because of his European activities during the campaign, many Republicans do not believe Root will be given the call. In consideration of Senator Lodge's valiant fight for the success of the Republican ticket, it is generally conceded that he has the best chance for a place in the cabinet if he desires it.

CORONER'S JURY BEGINS PROBE OF SHEPARD'S DEATH

MACON, Ga., Nov. 6.—A coroner's jury assembled today for an autopsy over the remains of Fred D. Shepard, a wealthy Fort Valley peach grower, whose body was disinterred following the development of evidence pointing toward foul play. Shepard died June 1 at the age of 41 and was one of five heirs to an estate of $2,000,000 left by his father. Poisoning is suspected and the evidence today may involve four persons. Shepard was married about a year ago. Six weeks after his death his widow married Dr.
F. E. Elmer, of Jacksonville, Fla.
Shepard is said to have left over $200,000 in bonds and stock at his death.

TRAINING SCHOOL COMES TO AN END

Those who assert that the young people of today are not interested in religious matters would have been astonished had they looked in on the B. Y. P. U. Training School which has been in progress at Central Baptist Church all this week. From seventy-five to one hundred young people from Albany, Decatur, and Austinville Baptist Churches came together for nearly three hours each evening to study to equip themselves for better Christian service.

The faculty consisted of W. H. Preston of Knoxville, Tenn., B. Y. P. U. secretary of Tennessee; J. E. Lambdin, of Montgomery, B. Y. P. U. secretary of Alabama. Every session was marked by the presence of the B. Y. P.
U. spirit of "Spizerinkum".

Quite a large number completed one or another of the courses and stood creditable examinations. Suitable awards have been granted.

A graduating exercise has been arranged in connection with the evening services at Central Baptist Church for pupils of that Church who completed the work. It is expected that the other churches will announce special plans for the recognition of the work of their young people.

Coal Strike In Belgium Spreads

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 6.—
The Belgium coal strike is spreading More than 55,000 miners are now on strike.

TWO AMERICANS ARE IN DANGER AS RESULT OF RAIDS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Two Americans, named Mills and McLaughlin are in serious danger as a result of an attack by armed Russians barata and Mongols on the town of Urga, Mongolia, according to reports to the state department from the American legation at Peking.

American friends of the two men are organizing a rescue party to bring them out of the danger zone.

COLLEGE OPENING IS SUCCESSFUL

The Albany Business College has opened with a splendid enrollment.
In an interview with the Manager he said, "the opening of the college was as good as we expected. I realize now more than ever the need of a first class Business College in Albany and this community and from the outlook now the Albany Business College is going to be a wonderful success."

"We are trying to make this a permanent school, and I can't see why this community wouldn't support a permanent Business College."

"The geographical location of Albany and Decatur is wonderful, and to be plain we can't see how any business of this nature could help but make a huge success."

"The people of this county have received us with the warmest welcome and we certainly do appreciate their spirit."

MERCHANTS MEET ON MONDAY NIGHT

The Albany branch, Retail Merchants Association, will meet Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the rooms of the Albany chamber of commerce.
Jeff Bailey, state director, will deliver an address. A banquet with cigars, will be a feature.

COMBINATION CHARGED

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 6.— Charges of an unlawful combination to keep up prices of rice were laid before U. S. district attorney Wooten by officers and members of the Southern Rice Growers Association and rice mill owners in a conference here today.

POULTRY SHOW TO COME TO AN END SATURDAY NIGHT WITH BIG DRAWING

Largest Crowd of the Week is Expected to be on Hand.

ASSOCIATION OFFICERS EXPRESS APPRECIATION

Those Who Have Cooperated in Making Show Success Are Thanked.

Tonight will mark the close of the greatest of the poultry shows which have been put on under the auspices of the Tennessee Valley Poultry Association. Large crowds have visited the show every day this week and tonight is expected to draw a larger crowd than any other time, in view of the fact that many valuable prizes will be awarded.

Every person entering the show today will be given a coupon and tonight at 9:00 o'clock these numbers will be drawn and those holding lucky numbers will receive valuable prizes.
Prizes to be given away tonight are as follows: 17 sacks flour, 1 bag chicken feed, 1 broom, 1 bunch bananas, 1 ham rack, 2 lbs coffee, 1 tie and 1 basket.

In addition to this there will be $35 in cash awarded to someone who entered chickens in the show. A number will be placed in a box for each chicken entered and the one holding the luck number will receive the $35.

The officers of the Tennessee Valley Poultry Association today expressed their appreciation to all those who have helped make the show such a success, and at the same time, urged everyone possible to attend the show tonight to witness the closing features.

TWO THROWN FROM BUGGY AND SUFFER PAINFUL INJURIES

A. J. Bradshaw and 5 year old son, Carl, were painfully injured late yesterday afternoon when they were thrown from a buggy hitched to a Shetland pony. Jake Ratner, another occupant of the buggy, was unhurt.
Mr. Bradshaw and son suffered severe bruises and Mr. Bradshaw's arm was broken by the fall.

LYLE AND TAYLOR DELIGHTFUL HOSTS

Managers and salesman of all the Lyle-Taylor houses were guests of the company, together with a number of other friends, here last night.

Following the service of a delectable lunch at the company's plant here, short addresses were made by G.
C. Porter, of St. Louis, of the home office of Purina mills; John S. Shaw, sales manager for north Alabama; N.
McGaden, of the Diamond Rubber company and E. E. Taylor, member of the firm.

Included in the hospitality were:

Without Intention To Pardon Debs

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The President has no intention of pardoning Eugene Debs, Socialist candidate for president, now in the penitentiary at Atlanta, it was authoritatively learned from official circles today.

Harding Is Off On His Last Vacation

HARDING, Nov. 6.—Warren G. Harding, president-elect of the United States, is off today on his last vacation before he turns his attention to bringing this nation back to a peace basis.

On the eve of his vacation trip, Senator Harding made formal announcement of a series of individual conferences which he will hold on his return to Marlon, which will be used as the basis for action when he takes office in bringing about peace.

The senator let it be known that these conferences will be wholly non-opinion will be sought upon the question of a peace treaty. He will seek to determine on what basis the people of the United States can completely agree with regards to peace, a fraternity of nations and the future foreign relations of the nation.

The Harding special is due to arrive in St. Louis tonight, in San Antonio Saturday night and in Brownsville Monday morning, whence the party will proceed by automobile to Point Isabel.

EVERYTHING READY FOR SUNDAY MEET TO HEAR BITTNER

With everything in readiness for the big mass meeting to be held tomorrow in Albany, indications point to the largest attendance ever recorded in a meeting held in the Twin Cities.

Interest in the questions to be discussed is not confined to the working people alone, labor leaders declare, but the farmers, business men and the entire general public has been keenly attracted by the issue raised as a result of the coal miners strike now in progress in Alabama.

Leaders of the labor forces here in charge of the mass meeting declare that it is not merely a question of the right of labor to organize in crafts, but that in the Alabama strike zone constitutional liberty has been destroyed by the coal operators "who maintain armies of private guards and deputies to enforce their orders." This, it is declared, has resulted in a situa-so critical that leaders of the labor forces in the strike district have appealed to President Wilson to take a hand.

Van A. Bittner, international representative of the United Mine Workers of America and said to be one of the best informed labor leaders in America, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Bittner declares that his appearance in Albany is "to tell the truth about conditions and submit the cause of the miners to Alabama citizens."

"I am glad that the meeting is on Sunday," Mr. Bittner declared in a letter to a friend in Albany. "It is particularly appropriate that on the Lord's day, men and women should get together to talk about maintaining sacred, God-given rights. We want every man, woman and child in the Tennessee Valley who can attend to be on hand. The message is one that not only concerns the striking miners and their struggling families, but it concerns every person in Alabama and the United States."

C. M. Dinsmore, president of the Farmers Union of Alabama, resident of Morgan County, will also appear.
It is believed that hundreds of farmers from Morgan and probably other counties in the valley will attend.

THERE'S NO ROAD LIKE THE ROAD BUILDER BUILDS

The above does not give you an announcement of a long drawn out address on good roads, but simply to announce to you that on Tuesday night at the banquet meeting of the membership of the Albany Chamber of Commerce the Albany Chamber of Commerce Male Quartette, which has won so much fame will entertain the members with one selection on the subject which all Morgan County is interested in at the present time.
"There Is No Road Like the Road Builder Builds" is the title of one of the many selections to be rendered by the quartette. The selection is very appropriate, in view of the fact that the meeting will be in form of a celebration of the passage of the Good Road Bond Issue.

WEATHER
Fair tonight. Unsettled
Sunday

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

As an aftermath of nearly every presidential election, we have a certain number of malcontents who seek to belittle our system of government with verbal thrusts at the convention plan of presidential nominations and the electoral college plan of final election.

It is true that our elective system is not all that might be desired, but we find no Utopias in this universe, and a review of the history of American presidential elections discloses the fact that convention nominations, as well as the electoral college, have many things in their favor.

The electoral college provision is an integral part of our constitution, although some features of the original article have been amended. The constitution originally provided that the nominee receiving the highest number of electoral votes should be declared president; the nominee receiving the next highest number of electoral votes to be declared the vice president. Following the election of Jefferson and Burr as president and vice president respectively in 1800, an amendment was adopted, requiring each elector to vote for one candidate for president and one candidate for vice president. Jefferson and Burr had tied in the college vote, but Jefferson was elected by the house of representatives, when the contest was carried to the floor of congress.

Election of the highest officer in the nation by a college of electors probably is founded on the rather similar plan in vogue in the German Empire as early as the reign of Charles IV when the right of election became limited to holders of their highest ecclesiastical and civil offices, some of which became hereditary.

In America, the first electors and these in this day are chosen by popular ballot. It was the plan, in the early days, for the electors to vote for whom they chose for president, but that system, long since, has given way to the "party plan." No elector now votes for other than the candidate of the party which elected him. For that reason party nominations by conventions are more or less essential to the success of the college.

George Washington was the only American citizen who received the unanimous vote of the electoral college. Perhaps the most notable fight for the presidency ever waged in the college occurred during the Tilden-Hayes controversy.

The appointment of an electoral commission, with 15 members, was resorted to by congress to end the muddle, when Tilden lacked one vote of having the necessary number to be elected by the college. By a strict party vote, 8 to 7, the commission elected Hayes. It was the nearest approach to failure ever recorded by the electoral college.

Since that time, election of our president gradually has become a popular movement. Protected by the party pledges, the people really elect their president now directly, the electors merely acting as rubber stamping agents.

In view of the usual presidential year abuse of the party convention nominations, it is well to bear in mind some of the creditable features of this system. It must be remembered that it costs much money to conduct a presidential campaign in these days. Absence of party nominations would be tantamount to prohibition of anyone making the race, unless he be well supplied with worldly goods. With only the rich running for the presidency, we could hardly expect to continue to have a "government of the people, by the people and for the people."

We Americans are accustomed to raising a howl to Heaven over many of our American institutions, but more than one of these institutions we protest against the liveliest contain redeeming features, if we but take the time to search them out.

A MAN THOUGH DOWN IS NEVER OUT

Some men are natural born quitters. They never accomplish anything because they cannot stand a little adversity. Others owe their success in large measure to their persistence.

We have known men of real ability so constituted that they could not stand defeat. If beaten for an office, they got sore, abused their friends, cursed everybody including the government, and then deliberately laid down on the job. This kind of a man doesn't deserve to succeed—just because he can't get everything he wants when he wants it, he quits. He's got to be coddled and petted all the time, he is a constant nuisance to his friends, he will only work when everything is favorable, the slightest little drawback throws him into a fit, he is supersensitive, and a general public nuisance, if he only knew it. This kind of a man never amounts to anything no matter what his ability. In the nature of things he cannot succeed except temporarily.

Contrast this kind of a man with the man who never gives up. He may not possess the natural ability or talent of the other kind, but he soon leaves him far in the rear. If defeated for any office, or temporarily unsuccessful in business, he goes right on after something else.

There have been two notable instances of this kind of man in recent years. One was a man who ran for the office of city court solicitor and tallied the ticket in a field of four. Did he quit—not on your life. He wrote a card to the newspapers, defeat good naturedly, and ran for the legislature within two or three months and led the ticket in a field of five candidates.

Another man made the race for re-election to the office of solicitor of the city court, was defeated, turned right around and became a candidate for assistant solicitor general and was overwhelmingly elected. We cite these two instances to prove our point, that a man though down is never out, unless he himself puts himself out.

We advise all our supersensitive friends, who haven't the nerve to stand a little adversity, to strengthen up their backbones. They need a dose of nerve tonic. At the same time we have little sympathy for them as we never did care for a quitter. And if they only knew it, the world in general doesn't sympathize with them either, for the majority of people have no use for a man who quits.

The man who never permits defeat to feaze him is just naturally going to succeed at something. If he fails at one thing, he will succeed at another. He may be perfectly sure that there is opening for him a career of honor and usefulness if he will just stick to it, and play the game fairly, honestly and aggressively.—Rome Tribune.

Well, We won and We lost. Now for more work for the country, and less saving the country."

If you must knock, build a chicken coop or something.

The "red" sunset is prophetic of the refreshing showers of sanity tomorrow.

As long as the fight for right is mixed up with how to hold a job, the job will win.

The rest of the world may get a sane answer from us as to peace and trade, now that we have decided who is to hold the offices, for another four years.

There is one good thing about the election, it may serve as an air-break.

A TRAIN OF THOUGHTS FOR SABBATH AND OTHER DAYS

By J. E. Blair

We are in the three hundredth year after the sailing of the Mayflower. "Each for all and all for each" was the watchword of the "fathers" who drew up an agreement for self government on board that historic ship. That philosophy of altruism and of mutual protection has made all that a great or worthwhile in America today.

Such a spirit is felt ONLY by those who are forward looking. With people who work together or progress, the Vanguard of today is always made the rear of tomorrow. Our handful of Mayflower adventurers, grown to 3,000,000 souls by 1776, threw off the yoke of George III, a kinsman of kings on Continental Europe, and set up a national household of their own. At once America became a synonym for opportunity; and countless thousands found an asylum on this continent. In 1812 we established the right to sail the seas of the world unmolested and unafraid. From 1803 to 1846, this great cooperative society added two million square miles to its original area, and these vast lands were quickly "manned" by the immigrants to the middle west, where now in season, wave the greatest grain fields ever known to mankind. Our pilgrims scaled the Rockies or unheeded through them, and pushed on out to the Golden Gate, the western entrance of beautiful California.

But through all these three centuries of "progress," have we kept the faith; is OUR motto the same as that of the Pilgrim Father—"Each for all and all for each"? If the language of every day conversation is the true index of character today, we moderns have NOT kept faith with the past. We say in place of the GOLDEN RULE: "Do others before they do you." We say that money, and not the voice of God speaks to us! We say that men simply ply their trades for a living, and that they are not really seeking to make a life. We talk as if we have shoved Christ from the helm, as we prate about "new thought" and free love, and tell wandering men just to follow their desires and instincts and the future take care of itself.

But such foolish converse may be only on the surface. We may know in our heart of hearts that Christ IS the true Shepherd, and that we DO need Him to open the way to right living, despite our surface talk about God being a principle. We may feel that He is a PERSON.

And it may be that many who work and save, are also laying up treasures where moth and rust do not corrupt. Let us hope so. And money may really be regarded more seriously than we say it is—we may be, becoming willing to do, as the Rich Young Ruler was told—"sell all that we have and give to the poor. Who shall say that our generation is not as generous as was that of the Pilgrim father?"

And because we joke about the Golden Rule, and make it read "Do others or they will do you," does not prove anything. Such talk may be only a feeble attempt to be humorous. Maybe down deep in our hearts we sincerely desire to practice the golden rule.

What people say, does not and never has told what people are.

"By their fruits ye shall know them." It is quite possible that on the whole, this generation is bringing forth fruit worthy of the accomplishments of the Pilgrim fathers and mothers. Perhaps we are bettering their record a little.

Despite the national break just made against the doctrine of "Each for all and all for each," the law of love may yet be established for all mankind. We may yet enter a league of happiness. We may yet become too glad and too great to talk forever about "America First," especially when we recall the sacrifices of the dead and broken in health, who have sacrificed their all for the principle of "One for all and all for One. But, finally, until the last ONE, in some way, may we correct our international mistake of Nov. 2nd, above means to us, "Christ Himself," and until we are all for Him, FIRST OF ALL, the world will continue to reel between a "stagger and a break-down," and we will continue to wonder whether our fellow creatures are just pleasant animals, or really angels.

PICKENS-NORTON

The marriage of Miss Bessie May Norton and Mr. Aubrey P. Pickens was quietly solemnized last night at the Willoughby Presbyterian manse. Rev. E. B. Johnson officiating. Only a few friends of the contracting parties were present. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Pickens left for Town Creek for a short visit to the parents of the groom.

AFTERNOON BRIDGE

Friday, November 5, Mrs. W. R. Smith entertained at cards at her attractive home, 545 Sherman street. The entire reception suite was thrown open for the entertainment of the guests. A simple but effective decoration in fall flowers, dahlias and chrysanthemum, arranged in crystal vases, was used in the decorative motif of reception hall, living and dining rooms. Mrs. Smith who is never more charming than in the role of genial hostess welcomed her guests in a handsomely embroidered voile afternoon gown. Mrs. R. H. Wolcott, who was most charming in ivory georgette, invited the guests to the dressing room and presented them with bridge score cards which marked the places for the beginning of the auction game. At the conclusion of an interesting contest the score prize, a large hand painted basket, was awarded to Miss Helen Wallace, and the consolation, a smaller hand painted basket, fell to Mrs. Gordon McDuff.

Mrs. H. T. Gill in a gown of brown meador, Mrs. J. L. Gunter whose gown was black tricolette and Mrs. Wolcott assisted the hostess in serving a tempting plate, luncheon to the following guests:
Mesdames W. A. Bibb, Harbin Miller, Chas. Eyster, B. Wallace, R. N. Harris, Rufus Pearson, R. G. Cortner, C. B. Elliott, T. A. Bowles, P. F. Tidwell, John Garrison, William McNeill, Marcia Bullard, J. H. Donnell, H. N. Binford, Earley Phinney, B. E. Preuit, T. M. Harvey, W. H. Driskill, W. M. Murry, O. Kyle, J. H. Judges Can Kiss
Stenographers

(International News Service)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 6.—Shades of Blackstone! And Romeol! The Oklahoma State Supreme Court has decided it is quite legal for jurists to kiss their stenographers! This decision was handed down in the quarter proceedings brought against Judge R. E. Davenport, of Chickasha, in the Grady County Circuit court, on charges of moral turpitude. The "moral turpitude" was a Grand Jury's indictment term for the judge's act in kissing his stenographer.

A District Court found that the Grand Jury had no jurisdiction in the case and dismissed the indictment, its verdict being upheld by the Supreme Court. The judge can now go on kissing his stenographer without fear of legal entanglements from the Grand Jury.

Could Be Better.

A waiter says it was probably a bagpipe instead of a fiddle that Nero played while Rome was burning, taking this position presumably on the fact that nearly all historians agree the music was rotten. It is for this reason we have stuck to the fiddle theory. Nero was a punk musician, and walls of the bagpipe are sweetness itself compared to the sound of the violin in the hands of a well-meaning amateur.

Main Idea With Youngster.

A youngster has caused his dad much worry by crossing streets without looking first for passing vehicles. To impress upon the youngster's mind the necessity of being more careful, he was telling his wife in the boy's presence a story of another little boy who, while crossing the street with an ice cream cone, had been run down by a heavy motor truck. For a brief moment the child sat in deep thought; then asked: "Did he spill the cone, pcp?"

COTTON MARKET

OPENING BEARISH

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The cotton market opened at a decline of 20 to 58 points today. The news generally was bearish in connection with weakness in securities and foreign exchange, warm weather over the belt and poor conditions in the textile trade.

There were brief rallies after the start, but they were poorly sustained.

ALA. FARM FACTS

COTTON ASSOCIA'N OFFICIAL JOURNAL

Adopted by State Division Directors in July

SAVES POSTAGE BILL

Association Page Conducted by Capt. W. R. Greene, Division Secretary

Alabama Farm Facts, published by The Advertiser Company at Montgomery, is the official journal of the Alabama Division American Cotton Association. It was unanimously adopted by the board of directors of the division at their July meeting. This paper has been the strongest advocate and supporter of the program of the American Cotton Association in the state from the time the division was formed and its work has been frequently complimented by the general officers of the organization and by the state board.

Apart from the recognition of the work of Farm Facts in assisting the organization of the Alabama Division, the officers of the division realized that the adoption of an official paper would save the organization a large amount annually in mailing costs by publishing the weekly messages of the officers from the headquarters in Montgomery to the members throughout the State, and Farm Facts was selected as the agricultural paper with the largest statewide circulation. One page, or more if necessary, is devoted weekly to the affairs of the American Cotton Association, the page being conducted by Captain W. R. Greene, secretary of the Alabama Division. The matter published on this page is addressed directly to the membership of the association, just as if personal letters were addressed to each member informing them of the progress made during the week and what other states are doing. This is the quickest and most effective means of reaching the membership with special messages and information from the headquarters.

In order to obtain accuracy in mailing lists and a complete record of names and post office addresses, it is required that new members of the American Cotton Association in Alabama shall fill out a form, which is presented at the time they sign their membership, giving this information so that the official journal will be received by them regularly every week. Alabama Farm Facts is a necessary feature of membership in the American cotton Association. Without it no member can keep up with the work of the Division and it contains a vast amount of useful information to the farmers and live stock raisers of the state which they can find in no other publication.—Advertisement.

HARVARD'S CRIMSON GIANT MEETS PRINCETON TIGER IN GRIDIRON CLASH TODAY

First Battle Between Teams of "Big Three" for This Season Takes Place in Harvard Stadium—Cornell Plays Dartmouth.

By Jack Veelock
BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Princeton's prowling Tiger will tackle Harvard's big Crimson football eleven here today in the first battle of the season between members of the exclusive "big three."

It has been for this game, and those scheduled with Yale, that the participants in to-day's struggle have been working like Trojans ever since the opening of the 1920 campaign, and it goes without saying that when the rival squads trot onto the gridiron at Harvard Stadium this afternoon they will be ready to exhibit the best football there is in them.

Numbered among the 40,000-odd spectators who will watch the Tiger stalk the Crimson giant will be many Yale scouts, and they will go back to New Haven with a pretty good line on the real strength of their rivals, for nothing in the way of gridiron strategy or trickery will be felt undone by either side.

Harvard has prepared a string of special plays to use against the Tigers, came to Boston with a bagful of tricks. It will be time enough after today's battle to "cook up" some pet plays for Yale.

Harvard has had a comparatively easy schedule to date. The Crimson's most interesting encounter up to today was that against Centre College, and though Centre was beaten by a sizable score are proved strong enough to bring out the fact that Harvard has power and that Arnold Horween's aggregation knows a lot of football.

Princeton, as has been the case with a good many Tiger elevens of the past, is a strong defensive aggregation, but aside from Lowrie or Murrey, her speedy quarterbacks, and Fulback Scheerer, who won the Yale game and tied Harvard last year, she cannot boast of the same powerful attack that is Harvard's. Princeton, however, has always been noted for developing "ball bounds" who are liable to win a game of football at any time by punning on a fumbled ball or slipping through some hole in the defense and galloping away to a touchdown.

HOT, DIZZY FEELING

Atlanta Lady's Uncomfortable and Annoying Condition Relieved, She Says, by Cardui.

Atlanta, Ga.—Miss Alice Frances Young, of 28 East Alexander Street, this city, says: "After entering womanhood, I suffered so much with womanly weakness. My back ached. I would have, at certain times, a hot feeling that seemed to go to my head. Even my shoulders would hurt, and it made me very dizzy and uncomfortable. When the blood would flow to my head—I suppose that was what it was—I would faint and feel so weak. "I couldn't do my work. I had a good position, and this was surely annoying as well as embarrassing. I would usually have to go home and go to bed. I certainly suffered greatly. "I heard of Cardui, and my mother bought it for me. It was the first and only medicine that ever did me any good for this trouble."

Dizziness, headache, slouching, backache, tired-out feeling and other disagreeable symptoms are often signs of womanly troubles. Thousands of women who formerly suffered from these and similar ailments have found Cardui a very valuable remedy. Cardui is composed only of pure, vegetable ingredients which have long been recognized as of medicinal value in the treatment of many diseases and disorders peculiar to women. Take Cardui. ## GOOD FELLOWSHIP MEETING IS HELD

The official board of the Willoughby Presbyterian church was host, last night, to a company of about 30 South Albany men and a few invited guests. "Good fellowship and Loyalty" were the favorite subjects of the speakers of the evening. The success of the meeting dated from the moment that Frank T. Lewis, its maker, presented the company with "Brunswick Stew", and the other edibles that go with that famous dish. Suffice it to say the "stew" was a thing of the past in about ten minutes time.

Besides the South Albany laymen of the Willoughby, the Ninth Street Methodist, and the South Side Baptist churches, Dr. L. E. Goodwin, B. Crawford, Rev. Kerr, a recent visitor in the Twin cities, and the pastors of the three South side churches were present.

The speakers were Rev. J. W. Carl, Rev. L. F. Goodwin, Rev. G. C. Walker, and Rev. Mr. Kerr. The meeting opened at 7 and good fellowship was the order of the evening until after 10 o'clock.

In speaking of the importance of a realization of the presence of God, Rev. Walker said: "The presence of God can be realized by those who wish it. Like any other faculty or sense it must be cultivated. We might speak of practicing the presence of God," as Brother Kerr, has said. It is only as we make religion a personal matter can we hope to enjoy it or become a blessing to our fellowmen. The religion of Christ will enable us to overcome the power of our surroundings."

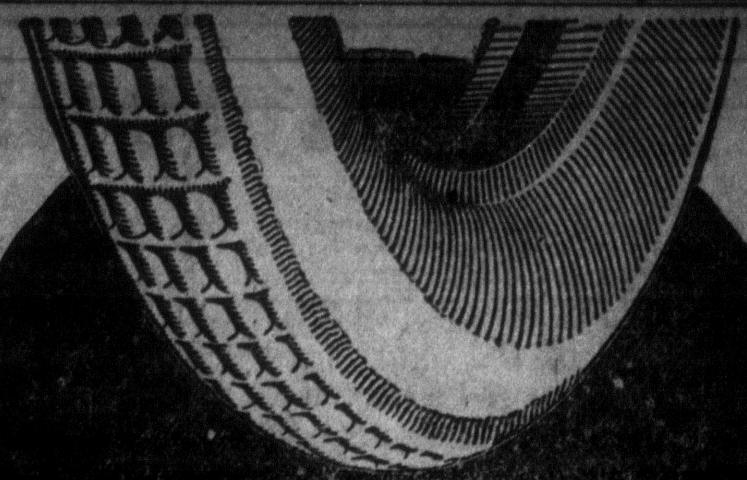

Rev. Walker admonished his hearers to remain loyal to their pastor and to their own church, saying that such loyalty strengthened personal loyalty to Jesus Christ.

Mississippi Will Build Hospital

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 6.—At the cost of $1,500,000 and yearly maintenance of $500,000 to the state, Mississippi will construct a tubercular sanitarium near Jackson, according to plans being designed. It will be modeled after the biggest sanitarium in the United States and will house 1,000 patients when constructed. It is hoped the state will be able to stamp out the dread disease, at least all dangerous cases, when the institution is completed. When the units are complete it will consist of two large infirmaries for white and negro patients, service building, children's building, power plant, sewage and water system concrete walks and drives. Ben Price is the architect.

Black Cat Cause of Death of Man

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., Nov. 6.—A black cat, which crossed the path of Frederick W. Wessler, was the direct cause of the man's death. Wessler, who 85, objected to the black cat's serenade and when the animal crossed his porch he kicked at the animal and, missing, lost his balance and fell from the porch to a concrete walk, five feet below and broke his neck.

NORMA TALMADGE
IN "YES OR NO"

Norma Talmadge in "Yes or No" comes to The Princess Monday.

Amusements

CONWAY TEARLE IN "MAROONED HEARTS" PRINCESS SATURDAY

"Marooned Hearts," a new National Picture starring Conway Tearle, will be the featured attraction at the Princess Theatre today.

The story, written by Lewis Allen Brown, tells of a Dr. Paul Carinton (Conway Tearle), a young society man, and Marion Ainsworth (Zena Keefe), a charming young society girl who has led a pampered life. Paul and Marion are very much in love, and the selfishness of the latter proves the undoing of her lover in that she restrains him from going to the bedside of an eleventh hour patient. Another doctor performs the operation, but Paul's reputation is ruined. The couple break their engagement.

From this premises the story whirls in its trend through the South Pacific Islands, a yachting cruise that proves disastrous to Marion, and which finally reunites her to Paul.

Members of the supporting cast include Ida Darling, Tom Blake, Eric Mayne and George Backus. The picture was directed by George Archambaud.

COBURN MINSTRELS

SCORE BIG HIT

(Nashville Tennessean)

Excellent Company to Play Return Engagement Here Saturday

Be it good, bad or indifferent, a minstrel show usually attracts the crowd. And so good was that put night not only did it draw a full house on general principles, but it caused Manager Harry Anderson to book it for a return engagement Saturday matinee and night. Better singing, funnier jokes and clever comedians would be hard to find, which is saying that the Coburn Minstrels are just about as good as they make 'em.

The company is not quite as large as some other well-known aggregations, but it more than makes up in quality. There are a number of excellent voices and the ensemble singing is a delight to lovers of "close harmony."

From beginning to end the audience enjoyed the show, usually bursting out into roaring laughter. The jokes are actually new and their achieve anapines without smuttness.

Charles Gano, the star of the show, is a comedian of the first rank. He gets his laughs, not by slapstick stuff of the cheap sort, but by clever acting and witty lines. Gano, by the way, staged the show.

Sam Johnson's "bone solo and imitations," the imitation of a first-class barber at work, brought down the house. Johnson may be said to shake a wicked bone. Eddie Horan did some good novelty dancing, and the Turner brothers' acrobatic dancing was as good as any ever seen here in its line. Rody Jordan, who got so many encores on his "blue," is a blackfaced entertainer par excellence. The mere opening of his mouth was a signal to the audience to roar.

Karl Denton, "prima donna of minstrelsy," can give Julian Eltinge something to think about. He made a fascinating dame, and his singing voice was one of the best imitations of a lady's that ever came from an Adam's apple. And, of course, everything wondered how in the world he came by those good-looking hands and neck and shoulders. How do they get that way?

Carl Cameron's Saxoland Four added more jazz to the general enjoyment, and the various solo singers brought numerous encores with a wide variety of songs. Coburn's Minstrels scored a tremendous hit on their initial bow to a Nashville audience. It's a good thing the public has to wait only till Saturday to get a second shot at them.

BRINGING UP FATHER PRINCESS NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

Jiggs, Mrs. Jiggs, their comely daughter and Dinty Moore, characters long popular in America because of their daily publication in the leading newspapers throughout the country, will be seen in the flesh at the Princess Theatre, Tuesday, where "Bringing Up Father at the Seashore" will entertain the local playgoers. The attraction is under the management of Gus Hill, who is said to have provided a splendid cast of musical comedy players and one of the attractive choruses of young misses ever assembled.

or No?" the latest and best offering of photodrama distributed by First National, in which Norma Talmadge life are shown in it, the story shifting from one to the other with startling rapidity. In the home of Margaret Vane we see the social elite frittering away their time while a moment later, whisked by the magic of the moving picture camera a few blocks east we encounter Minnie Berry, laboring amid squalid poverty to keep her home and babies in a manner worthy of the love of her devoted but preoccupied husband.

Of course Miss Talmadge handles both roles. And she does it with a rare skill and charm. Both of her characterizations are excellent, her beauty contributing much to the enjoyment of the picture. Even as Minnie Berry in gingham and with hair bedraggled, this delightful little actress is good to look upon, while in the gorgeous wardrobe she has equipped herself with for the part of Margaret Vane her beauty is irresistible. In making this picture unusual care has been taken by Director O'Neill to faithfully reproduce the settings. In fact the scenes in the Berry home are actually shot in a real East Side tenement in New York City. Several of the settings for the society end of the picture are actual scenes in one of the famous homes of wealth which abound in the metropolis.
